Oath/Declaration

The oath or declaration is defective. A new oath or declaration in compliance with 37 CFR 1.67(a) identifying this application by application number and filing date is required. See MPEP §§ 602.01 and 602.02.

The oath or declaration is defective because:

Non-dated alterations have been made to the oath or declaration. See 37 CFR 1.52(c).

Specification

The examiner has not checked the specification to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors (grammatical, typographical and idiomatic). Cooperation of the applicant(s) is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant(s) may become aware of in the specification, in the claims and in any future amendment(s) that applicant(s) may file.

Applicant(s) is also requested to complete the status of any copending applications referred to in the specification by their Attorney Docket Number or Application Serial Number, if any.

The status of the parent application(s) and/or any other application(s) cross-referenced to this application, if any, should be updated in a timely manner.

Claim Interpretation

Applicants should note that the claims in this application (as in the parent application) have been examined with the understanding that the metal cyanide and the alkaline earth metal salt in the specified amount are both required (or as if the product obtained must be derived from the presence of both of these materials). This interpretation is based upon the definitions of the cyanide salts and the alkali metal salts set forth in the instant specification. They do not appear to overlap in scope at all that therefore the examiner is reading the instant claims as if these two components are distinct and different and must both be present. Moreover, the unexpected results provided in the application are directed to catalysts that require a specific addition of a specific amount of the alkali metal salt (normally a disadvantageous residue that is rinsed away as much as possible).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 14-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 14 is indefinite in the recitation of "transition metal salt". The examiner queries this because in this field of technology, the final product would not appear to have the salt of the transition metal present any longer, only the occluded alkali metal salt. Some clarification is required.

The examiner further queries claim 16 in the reference to the "metal cyanide salt" of the formula. Although a metal cyanide salt containing both cobalt and potassium is a well-known starting material in this field, the presented formula does not provide to such a recitation because it does not provide proper antecedent basis. M^2 would apparently be cobalt alone, not cobalt and zinc.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Note that a double-patenting rejection is proper in this application because catalyst composition claims were also examined in the parent application.

Claims 14-20 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-7 of U.S. Patent No. 6,696,383. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the product by process claims of the patented composition are not considered to differ significantly in scope from the instant claims which define the composition in terms of the actual material rather than the process by which it is obtained. Accordingly, the two sets of claims are directed to substantially the same inventive concept.

Conclusion

Applicants are advised that any evidence to be provided under 37 CFR 1.131 or 1.132 and any amendments to the claims and specification should be submitted prior to final rejection to be considered timely. It is anticipated that the next office action will be a final rejection.
